There are 60 civil cases on the January calendar for county court which will be convened next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the county court house.

County Judge Frederick G. Traver will devote the first week to civil matters, if there are any which counsel desires to try.

On the opening day there will be, also, arraignments of defendants under indictments which were handed up by the last grand jury and which were transferred by order of the court to the county court.

District Attorney Cleon B. Murray will make up a calendar of criminal actions to be taken up the second week, commencing January 15.

Bar Association To Hold Annual Meeting, January 28

Charles W. Walton of this city, secretary of the New York State Bar Association, has announced plans for the 60th annual meeting which will be held in New York city beginning January 28 and lasting three days.

Mr. Walton says the meeting will probably be the largest assemblage of the legal profession ever conducted in the state.

President John Godfrey Saxe will call the meeting to order at 2 p. m. on the opening day. The annual dinner will be held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Friday evening, January 29. Sol M. Strock of New York, chairman of the section of the association which is composed of presidents of Federations of Bar Associations and committee of character and fitness throughout the state, will preside. Judge Edward S. Greenbaum will be the principal speaker.

A dinner for the presidents of bar associations and representatives of federations of bar associations and local bar associations has been arranged. U. S. District Attorney Martin Conboy will preside.

President Hutchins to Speak

Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, will make the annual address. John Lord O'Brien of Buffalo and Isidor Lazarus, chairman of the committee on professional economics of the New York County Lawyers Association, are among the speakers. Karl A. McCormick of Buffalo, the only proctor of the bar in the state, will tell about his official position.

The judicial section is to meet Saturday morning, January 30. Former Justice William F. Bleakley of Westchester will preside. Judge Harold M. Stephens of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia, will speak, after which there will be luncheon with Chief Judge Frederick E. Crane of the Court of Appeals presiding. Chief Justice Carl V. Weygant of the Supreme Court of Ohio will be a speaker at the luncheon.

The district attorneys' section will discuss amendments to the Code of Criminal Procedure. Attorney General Bennett, Charles Poletti, counsel to Governor Lehman, and Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine will attend. Mayor La Guardia is to be the guest speaker.

James C. Torney of Syracuse is to address the corporation counsels and municipal attorneys' section.

$35,000 Fire at Hague
Hague, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—A Lake George boathouse, two cabin cruisers and 15 smaller boats lay in ruins today result of an estimated $35,000 fire. Hibbard Hall of the Hall Boat Corporation said the cruisers destroyed yesterday belong to Arthur E. Broughton of Glens Falls and Alfred L. Mallicord of Canton, Ohio. The other boats were owned by summer residents.

Temperatures and precipitation averaged below normal in New York state during November, and sunshine averaged about normal, according to the monthly report of the weather bureau maintained at Cornell by the United States Department of Agriculture. The average snowfall for the state was about twice the normal amount.

EVERY WOMAN FACES THIS QUESTION

How do I look to other people? So many women risk their beauty by neglect of constipation. It often causes loss of pep, sallow skin, dull eyes, poor complexion.

Yet common constipation can be ended so easily. Just eat two table-spoons of Kellogg's All-Bran with milk or fruit every day, three times daily in severe cases. This delicious ready-to-eat cereal supplies the "bulk" needed to exercise the system—and vitamin B to help tone up the intestinal tract.

Within the body, All-Bran absorbs more than twice its weight in water, gently sponging out the intestines. It never causes the artificial action of pills and drugs, that often prove ineffective.

Kellogg's All-Bran, you see, is a food—not a medicine. It relieves common constipation the way Nature intended—so its results are safe. Buy it at your grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

John Dellay Trial Continues

New York, Jan. 7.—(Special)—The trial of John Dellay on charges of maintaining a still on the Liebowitz farm, Lyonsville, continued today before Judge Robert P. Patterson in federal court here, with the defendant taking the stand in his own defense.

He denied having had any knowledge that the 500-gallon still, discovered there later by federal agents, was on the premises or with having had anything to do with its being there.

He was interested, he told the jury, in making some money in real estate deals. He would take a lease on a farm at a certain price and would then sublet it to someone else at a higher figure.

This explained, he said, his presence on several farms where stills were later discovered.

He entered into leasing arrangements in some cases during the early winter months, the evidence showed.

"Did you expect to do any farming there in the winter or did you expect to sublet it at that time of the year to someone else for farming purposes?" asked Assistant United States Attorney Burns on cross-examination.

The witness explained that the particular farm under discussion could be had then for $25 a month and that at such a figure it paid him to hold it for a few months.

"You know, don't you, that up in Ulster county these bootleggers operate the stills in the winter months?" asked Mr. Burns.

"I don't know anything about stills," persisted Mr. Dellay.

The defense will rest at the conclusion of his testimony and the case will then go to the jury.

Doctors Relax Watch Over Pope

Vatican City, Jan. 8 (AP)—Doctors of Pope Pius XI, whose condition was described as better, relaxed their minute-by-minute watch at the ailing pontiff's bedside today.

Dr. Amintore Milani, the chief physician, considered the Holy Father sufficiently recovered to delegate some of his responsibility to subordinates.

The pontiff was reported to have slept relatively well during the night to awake refreshed.

After hearing Mass, he began work on his correspondence and listened to his secretaries' reports on the replies made by Italy and Germany to Franco-British demands for non-intervention in the Spanish civil war.

With 60,000 foreign soldiers from half a dozen countries fighting in Spain, obviously that's no longer a private war.

Schenectady Boy Ends Four Years "As Garbo Type"

Schenectady, N. Y., Jan. 8 (AP)—Twenty-two year old DeWitt Weldon cut his curled, shoulder-length blonde hair today and doffed the feminine finery he wore four years to beat depression.

Chief of Police William H. Funston said Weldon, taken into custody yesterday in woman's clothing, admitted his masquerade and declared it was "a source of income."

"I did it to help my father and mother," the chief quoted Weldon as saying.

Chief Funston described Weldon as a curly-haired blonde "of the Garbo type" and said he had been employed regularly during the four years as a domestic in various homes where he was known as "Evelyn" Weldon.

"Several of Weldon's employers with whom I talked," the chief said, "told me what a wonderful cook and good, clean housekeeper Weldon was. All said they liked 'her' very much and none ever suspected the deception."

Weldon himself declared, Chief Funston continued, that he had been "very careful in his manner toward his employers and liked the life very much."

He told the chief, Funston said, that he had attended parties and dances often with men who never suspected his true sex. A tip from an undisclosed source led Funston to question the youth yesterday.

No charge was placed against him, Chief Funston said, but a promise was exacted both from him and his parents that the masquerade would end immediately.

Funston said Weldon's father declared that "I haven't got it all, but I never wanted him to do it. The youth's mother was hysterical throughout a session at police headquarters, the chief said."

Canning crops in New York will continue to be relatively profitable although wide variations in returns seem likely to continue, according to economists at the college of agriculture. They point out that canning-factory crops have given fairly satisfactory profits when compared with other cash crops over a period of years.

THE ANNUAL PROBLEM

Make checks payable to the collector of Internal Revenue and the deadline is March 15—Yes, it's the annual income tax drive on John Q.
 Public's purse. But the blanks to be filled out this year will have one less line to fill out, but it's no cause for a joyous celebration—it means one less deduction permitted. The Revenue Act of 1936 eliminated the previous deduction for dividends from domestic corporations.

Taxpayers must now include such dividends in figuring income for normal tax purposes, the rate being four per cent on the first $4,000. Previously these dividends were only counted in calculating the surtax.

This one new feature is expected to bring in several millions of dollars more than was realized last year.

A general strengthening of collection lines is indicated in the program for this year. The blanks for individuals with incomes of less than $5,000 have been made more complete with a view of facilitating official checkups on evasions. Names of banks and corporations which paid the taxpayer any interest must be reported in the new forms. Such information is not required of the larger taxpayers, whose returns are checked in person, but the smaller returns are checked in the office of the district bureau at Albany and the information will aid that check.

Forms are now being mailed out and will soon be in the hands of all taxpayers, who filed returns in previous years. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation. Forms may be obtained upon request from the Albany offices of the Collector of Internal Revenue.

ARTISTIC INDUSTRY

One of the revolutions of recent years has been the changed attitude toward mills, furnaces, factories, freightyards, docks and all the ugly panoply of industry. It isn't ugly any more. At least people don't think it ugly; and in esthetic matters at least "there's nothing either good or ill, but thinking makes it so."

The photographers and painters started it by making attractive pictures of such things. That is, pictures with good composition, catching a supposedly ugly sight at an angle, or in a light, that made it a fresh revelation. Magazines and newspapers took it up. The public came to see a wonderful combination of power and beauty in a big furnace belching fire against a black sky; in massive factories outlined darkly against a sunset glow; in groups of mills with their forest of stacks seen through a morning mist; in giant cranes and steel ships loading or unloading; in interior views of steel works with their powerful machines operated by grimy men; in textile mills with their endless rows of looms; in deep mines where workmen with power drills dig the ore and coal.

Even during the great depression, when so many of these scenes were empty and silent, we learned to admire them. With their awakening to life and prosperity, for the present at least, even the smoke and smell and dirt seem beautiful.

SIMPLIFIED GOLF

"Golfers who can bear up one more year will then have their burden lightened by a new rule of the United States Golf Association which has announced: "The game of golf shall be played with not more than fourteen clubs beginning January 1, 1938." The Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, is expected to make a similar ruling.

Persons not yet acquainted with golf may not know how complicated the club situation has become. Harry Vardon, former famous champion and golf authority, said seven clubs were enough for any one. Some players have made low scores on modern courses using only a single club. But most golfers have been going in for specialization, with different clubs for different sorts and distances, until complete clubs require 25 or 30 clubs. Of course they have totalled 30 pounds in weight, which, as a frank caddy would say, is quite a load to drag around the links on a warm day. Golf may now emerge from the weight and variety of clubs under which it was being buried. This will greatly improve the game and the average player's enjoyment of it.

DRASTIC BRITISH LAWS

Five important new laws became operative in Great Britain with the arrival of 1937. The first, the Publication Order Act, is aimed directly at Oswald Mosely and his black-shirted fascists. It was passed by both houses of parliament in record time and forbids political uniforms and semi-military organizations. It is hoped that Mosely's followers, deprived of everything but the soap box forum, will rapidly lose interest in the fascist movement.

Second is the Housing Act which defines and prohibits overcrowding.
 The provisions of this law were laid down in 1935. They are now merely being extended in application. By July 1 they will apply to all but 50 towns and districts in the country.

Two industrial acts regulate the hours of factory workers and the employment of minors.

The fifth is a motor law which was enacted in 1931 but allowed five years grace to cars then on the road.
 It requires that all automobiles, old or new, be equipped with safety glass. It is estimated that almost 250,000 old cars will be scrapped
 from domestic corporations.

Owners who don't want to put into them the money necessary to fulfill the law. The effects of these laws are likely to be great and far-reaching.

TALKS TO PARENTS

Quant Teaching

By BROOKE FEILERS CHURCH

Duty, will, self discipline, conscience—words of deep significance 30, even 25 years ago, have today almost disappeared from the "bright lexicon of youth," and have been largely forgotten or set aside as old fashioned by their elders. Such conceptions are considered almost in the light of superstitions, inhibiting and injurious to the free development of youth.

Does Joe object to arithmetic?
 Undoubtedly he is an artistic bent. Let him choose for himself the studies of which he feels the need. Does Mary want to dance?
 Play music for her and let her put her ideas into her own rhythmic response. The old notion of exact training only hampers the child and spoils his spontaneity.

Are the young Browns unable to make a go of their marriage?
 No one suggests that for the sake of their children they should at least try to act like adults instead of self-willed and uncontrolled children. Why should they give up their personal happiness? Better break up the home at the sacrifice of the children's peace of mind, and try again.

That there is something bigger and finer than self expression, personal freedom and personal hapis like a crowded market place where each man is grabbing what he wants with no thought for any-even for the best and biggest grab-

Only when the children learn forgetfulness of self, thought of others, self control and the duty each man owes his fellow men, can they attain real joy and contentment. And these lessons they can learn only by the example of those about them.

A Little Lady in Black

MRS. WINTHROP PHELPS, the sister of Bigelow's mother, had been married three times and each of her husbands had been wealthy and important. She had divorced the second out of her first and third.
 Now, at 60, she was alone in the world, save for a nephew—himself—and her step-daughter, Anne Phelps.

She lived in the old Phelps mansion—one of the last surviving residences on Fifth Avenue. Outside her walls, times had changed almost unbelievably, but inside, everything seemed exactly as Bigelow vaguely remembered it.

The butler who took his hat and coat told him that she was waiting for him in the drawing room. He found her there in her big chair by the fire
 —a little lady in black who managed to look like a big lady, somehow. Perhaps her calm dignity of bearing had something to do with that, for she was 60 and did not try to conceal the fact.

He advanced to kiss her—and then stood back to look at her, as she waited with smiling brown eyes.

"Thank God," said he, "for something which doesn't change in a constantly changing world."

"But I do change. I have changed, she answered. "My hair wasn't white when you went away. If you have forgotten that important item, I assure you, I have not."

"Unessential," he assured her.
 "You are the same."

"I suppose what you mean, really, is that I am old-fashioned," she nodded, "and of course it's true. Anne is always telling me that. But I can't be one of these dreadful old women with dyed hair and painted faces,

Indian Stone Relic Collection, Hobby Of Bert Beardsley

Down from Catskill about eight years ago came Bert Beardsley, a man who is the owner of one of the finest collections of Indian stone relics in this section. And the most interesting part of the whole thing is that most of these curios were found in the vicinity of Catskill and a section on the Kingston side called "Imbogh" by the Dutch who settled this section years ago.

While yet a boy, Bert Beardsley began collecting the old Indian stone relics that he found in the fields and woods about the upriver village. He found pieces of pottery that still showed evidences of accumulated grease, and were crossed with various designs. Spearheads, five and eight inches long, were unearthed, along with sections of pipe stems that are believed to have belonged to the Algonquin and Iroquois Indians. Axe heads, fish net sinkers, "discoidal stones" used in games, and flint knives, dating back perhaps three hundred years, are included in this collection.

Especially interesting were several flint drills that were used to drill holes in other stones, and "banner-stones", objects that resembled the modern pick-axe, but were polished to a high degree and were evidently not used for any rough work. Fragments of soap-stone bowls and stone rods, used in grinding meal, are also shown. The chisels or gouges that were employed in hollowing out the trees for the dugout canoes, remain as mute evidence of the hours of toil that was necessary to accomplish a suitable boat with such crude implements. Another interesting exhibit was a rotary arrow, pounded out of flint, that would spin while in flight. Some jaw bones and teeth of Indians are in this collection. Mr. Beardsley stating that these relics were found along the banks of a stream where they had evidently been washed down from some point farther up. A separate collection of 2,000 arrowheads, some made from quartz, completed the collection of local relics.

In conjunction with Mr. Beardsley's local collection, there is also a reindeer head from Kotzebue Sound, mouth of the Koble river, in Alaska. This specimen was presented to him as a reminder of the Klondike, and was made by the Alaska Indians. Then too, there is a selection of arrowheads from Oregon, made from Agate, Obsidian, Moss, Agate and Chalcedony, forms of volcanic glass. These heads are colored in various hues and are used for small game such as birds. Arrows with metal tips, the metal taken from looted barrel-hoops of the "forty-niners", are a part of the collection. These latter specimens were made by a tribe of Arizona Indians who made regular raids on the pioneer prairie travelers, taking whatever goods that they found after successfully staging the raid.

At the time of this interview, Bert Beardsley had his collection laid out on a table in one room of his house, and to a person that is interested in relics and things representing bygone days, the display was certainly very interesting. His collection was assembled by rambling about the woods and fields, keeping a watchful eye on the ground for any evidence of odd-shaped stones that might have been tools some years ago. In the winter time, Mr. Beardsley used to skate along the banks of a stream for several miles, investigating the shoreline and digging out arrowheads and pieces of pottery, one day collecting as many as 120 of the flint heads. This collection of Indian stone relics has been a lifelong hobby for Mr. Beardsley, and has afforded him many hours of pleasant roaming and rambling through the natural beauties of the Catskill countryside.

St. Mary's Holy Name Communion

A large crowd of men assembled at St. Mary's Church last night for the opening service of the triduum being held in connection with the annual communion of the Holy Name Society. The exercises were in charge of the spiritual director of the society, the Rev. William H. Kennedy.

These services will continue at 7:30 o'clock Friday and Saturday evenings. On Sunday morning at the 8 o'clock Mass the men of the parish will receive Holy Communion in a body. The society will be augmented on this occasion by delegations from the police, fire and postal departments of the city, who will be special guests of the Holy Name Society.

Immediately following the Mass a breakfast, prepared by the men, will be served in St. Mary's school hall. It is expected that about 350 men will attend this function, which is held in January each year. In addition to the local clergy addresses will be made by the Very Rev. Stephen J. Connelly, V. F., of Poughkeepsie and the Rev. Patrick McGowan, C. S. R., of Esopus. There will also be a musical program and general sociability.

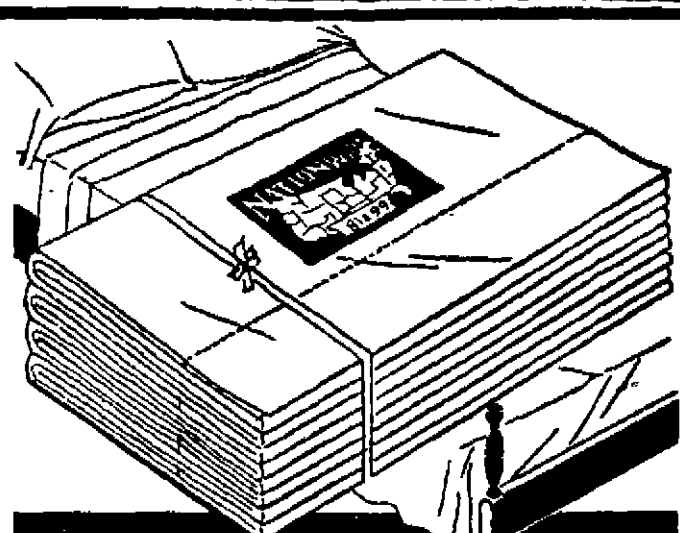

Sunday evening at 7:30 the annual meeting and election of officers of the Holy Name Society will be held at St. Mary's school hall when the program for the year will be announced.

Spain's War Is Tough On Automobiles

IT'S IN THE ARMY NOW

Commandeered, this roadster now is part of the loyalists' mechanized forces. Through megaphones, the men in the rumble seat shout warnings.

VICTIM OF AN AIR RAID

Once it was an automobile... But hardly enough was left to identify it after insurgent raiders over Madrid had plunked a bomb beside it.

Talavera De La Reina, Spain, (AP).—Spain promises an extraordinary market for automobiles, trucks and buses at the conclusion of the war.

Thousands of these, mostly of American manufacture, already have been wrecked or worn out by the war. Thousands more, it is expected, will meet a similar fate before the fighting ends.

A huge toll of cars and trucks has been taken by road mishaps, bullets, artillery fire and airplane bombs. Hundreds remain in operation with bullet holes as evidence of narrow escape from disaster.

"Regimentation."

On both sides cars have been commandeered freely. Commercial trucks and buses take the place of military trucks for troop, gun and munition transport. The sign "Requisitioned," marks almost every serviceable automobile in Spain.

There is evidence that this "transportation loss" has been far heavier on the left side than with the insurgents, who have had the advantage of more military organization.

Minister for Justice Carlos Oliver, speaking at Valencia, declared recently that "more automobiles have been wrecked and ruined in the past four months than would ordinarily be the case over a period of 50 years."

Soldiers Go Joy Riding

Reports from Madrid and Valencia indicate that more than a few cars have been wrecked by "joy-riding" militiamen. In most cases workers who find themselves in possession of powerful and expensive cars for the first time.

In San Sebastian, during the very first days of the war, the writer saw luxury cars taken from private and public garages and, covered with red-painted signs and driven about with reckless disregard for the welfare of the machine.

Highway warfare in first months of the struggle took a heavy toll of cars, trucks and buses and torn roads have contributed to accidents. Wrecked, overturned and burned cars have been a most obvious sign of the costs of war.

May Reward Fascists

It will be months, after the war is concluded, before Spain can restore normal highway transportation.

How Spain will pay for new equipment is another matter. Most cars, trucks and buses have been American imports in the past. If the insurgents win, it is assumed, this market for American cars will find new and controlled competition from Germany and Italy as one reward for early recognition by those countries.

Health Officer Issues Warning On Undulant Fever

Dr. John C. Kamp, local health officer, has issued a statement warning the people of this vicinity about undulant fever, which is contracted by human beings from the milk of cows having undulant fever.

During the last two years eight persons are or have been sick from this disease, which is a serious and protracted illness.

Cases of undulant fever are becoming more numerous every year and no vaccine has been found yet to prevent or cure the disease.

Dr. Kamp's letter further reads: Consequently, as health officer of the town of Saugerties, I cannot issue any permits of the sale of milk from any cow or cows unless they have been tested for this disease, as Grade A milk (raw).

"Likewise, as before, milk must be from tuberculin tested cows, and the barns and stables must meet the requirements of the State Department of Health. Inasmuch as the herds of the regular distributors of milk in this town have been tested for undulant fever, there is little or no danger of contracting this disease for those persons who obtain their milk through the regular licensed distributors.

"However, the chief source of infection will be with the so-called 'one cow' dealers or farmers who have permits to sell their milk in the customers' containers, unless the cows have been tested for undulant fever. Owners of the cows which are not tested for this disease may endanger their own health as well as that of their families and neighbors to whom they distribute milk. To avoid this risk have your cows tested. The cost is small, namely, a charge for the veterinary's call plus 40 cents for each cow tested. For herds of 15 cows or more, a flat rate of 50 cents is made for each cow, without the charge of the veterinary's visit.

"Signed, Dr. John C. Kamp, health officer."

School Children Have Bad Teeth

Saugerties, Jan. 8.—It was reported that over 50 per cent of the pupils attending school in Saugerties have defective teeth, and of the 1,047 students examined 721 have dental defects.

The students examined were from the three schools in Saugerties. Examination was made by Miss Harriet Anderson, dental hygienist of the schools. The pupils were given a card which is to be filled out by the attending dentist with his signature but very few have attended to the matter seriously since the start of hygiene work on September 11, 1936.

Rapid Hose Co. Elects Officers, Enjoys Banquet

Augustus J. Bunse Re-elected President of Downtown Hose Company at Annual Meeting—Fire Chief Murphy, Former Mayor Dempsey, President Wetterhahn and Others Speak at Banquet.

Augustus J. Bunse of Hone street was unanimously re-elected president of Rapid Hose Company at the annual meeting held Thursday evening in the engine house on Hone street. Other officers, the majority of whom were re-elected, were: Vice president, Jacob Scharp; treasurer, Montgomery Bailey; recording secretary, Richard Hinkley; financial secretary, Supervisor Henry Kelsch; foreman, Walter Albrecht; first assistant foreman, Bernard Coughlin; second assistant foreman, George Pardee; steward, Henry Wenzel; delegate to Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, Edward Stopski; delegate to New York State Veteran Firemen's Association, Charles Bunse; delegate to Kingston Fire Fund Association, George E. Kirchner; delegate to Kingston Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association, Messrs. Hinkley, Stopski and Sudheimer; trustee for three years, Fred W. Sudheimer.

Following the business session the annual banquet was served and the fine menu that had been prepared was thoroughly enjoyed by the firemen and their guests. The main dish served at the banquet was roast beef. After the good things to eat had been tucked away beneath the vests of the firemen and their guests President Bunse presided as toastmaster and in extending a hearty welcome to the guests present he called attention to the fact that one familiar face was missing from the banquet board, that of Peter P. Zeeh, oldest member of the company in years of service, and for years one of the officers of the company. Mr. Zeeh was unable to attend the meeting and banquet owing to ill health. The members of the company and guests drank a toast to Mr. Zeeh.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, the first speaker of the evening, thanked Rapid Hose for the cooperation it had given him during the past year and stated he knew that the same loyalty would be extended this year in the past. He spoke of the feeling of friendship and cooperation that existed between the volunteer fire department and the members of the paid department, both working together for the interests of the department.

Deputy Fire Chief Fred M. Leverich complimented Rapid Hose on its record during the years it had been in existence, and touched briefly on the duties of a fireman.

Commissioner Edward Wetterhahn, president of the board of fire commissioners, thanked Rapid Hose for its efficient work during the past years, and said he knew that the company would still continue to loyally perform its duties in the years to come. He called attention to the fact that the company would entertain the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association in March, and expressed the thought that perhaps the rooms of Rapid Hose would not prove sufficiently large to accommodate the association and said that if desired Rapid Hose could have the use of Central Fire Station to entertain the visiting firemen.

Former Mayor Dempsey recalled the pleasant associations he had had with Rapid Hose and the Kingston fire department during his administration as mayor of the city, and expressed the hope that these associations would continue on down through the years.

H. L. Van Dusen delivered a brief humorous talk on how it was due to the efforts of "Cooney" Schuler and "Jake" Port that his attempts to become a volunteer fireman had been foiled.

Others who spoke briefly were Montgomery Bailey, Richard Hinkley, Henry Kelsch, Walter Albrecht, Fred W. Sudheimer, Policeman Edward J. Leonard, Charles Roosa, George E. Kirchner, Jacob Port, Max Mones, Charles Spait, Charles Bunse, Bernard Coughlin, George Pardee, Conrad Schuler and M. J. Edwards.

Today
Broadway: "Love on the Run." May fun well mixed with romance comes to the Broadway with those box office stars, Joan Crawford and Clark Gable. In the main assignment, it's the story of an American heiress who leaves her bridegroom stranded at the altar and who becomes mixed up with a foreign correspondent of an American paper. The two of them dash madly about Europe, she eluding her marriage to a stiff shirt of a nobleman, he sensing his biggest newspaper story in years. Before the action terminates, the two are immersed in dangerous situations with the police over the work of spies with whom they come in contact. The show is an airy bit of melodrama, lavishly produced and well directed by W. S. Van Dyke. The supporting cast includes Franchot Tone, Reginald Owen, Mona Barrie, Ivan Lebedeff and Charles Judels. A Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presentation from a story by Alan Green and Julian Brodie. Kingston: "Come and Get It." Edward Arnold, long knocking at the door of cinema greatness, achieves his goal in the drama at the Kingston for Mr. Arnold gives a brilliant performance in the role of a chore boy who becomes a lumber baron of almost legendary power and wealth. Taken from Edna Ferber's novel, the screen version has both verity and reality. A father and son motif runs through most of the film to form the plot structure and the whole show is produced on the grand scale with costly sets and a giant cast. Featured players include Joel McCrea, Frances Farmer, Walter Brenner, Frank Shields, Andrea Leeds and Mady Christians. A United Artists picture directed by William Wyler. Orpheum: "A Son Comes Home" and "Big Show". Mary Boland turns to more serious matters in the best of the Orpheum features and plays the mother role for a troubled son with Wallace Ford and Julie Haydon featured. It is an interestingly done performance on the part of the principals. "Big Show" is the other feature and it brings the singing cowboy, Gene Autry, in a routine western thriller with song effects added for good measure.

Tomorrow
Broadway: "Showaway". Shirley Temple goes oriental in her latest opus, with songs by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel, direction by William A. Selter and production worries handled by B. G. DeSylva and Earl Carroll. The story tingles with excitement, humor and songs and Miss Temple plays the role of an orphaned little waif on the loose in Shanghai who becomes a showaway on a liner under strange circumstances. Through her efforts, a bored bachelor is taught the meaning of love, some comical situations develop and the whole picture parades through entertaining reel after reel to reach the expected happy ending. Here is a show that will appeal to young and old and the little stars cast includes such big names as Robert Young, Alice Faye, Eugene Pallette, Helen Westley, Arthur Treacher, Astrid Allwyn and the Honorable Wu.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE

Among the improvements which have recently been made at the county clerk's office by County Clerk James A. Simpson is the removal of the maps on file from the ancient filing cabinet and the filing of the maps in books. This not only makes the maps more handy for those seeking to consult them but also keeps them in better condition and prevents their removal from the office. The old filing cabinet in the office is now being converted by Peter Osterhoudt & Son, local contractor, into a supply storage cabinet.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By Associated Press

Good Hunting.
Waynesburg, Pa.—Bill Taylor, former pitcher for the Philadelphia Nationals, drove up to his favorite drug store, went inside, and talked to his friends of his duck-hunting prowess.

Extending his left hand toward the door he said:
"So I lifted the gun like this and—bang!"

A sparrow, flying outside, hit a wire and fell dead on the pavement.

Whiskey Passes Test.
Brooklyn, N. Y.—Jack Jarmark, arrested, intoxicated, told the judge he was.

"It all happened," he explained, "at a ball of the Distillers' Association."

We were testing out a new whiskey. It was good. It got the better of me.

"I think you're telling the truth," the judge ruled. "Sentence suspended."

Let's We Forget.

St. Louis—Optimist Club members here have inaugurated a "wife saving" plan which they believe will end one common source of domestic discord.

Edgar Walsh, club secretary, said a warning of each member's wedding anniversary will be mailed to the member three days before the event.

They'll Keep Skates.

Gramer Purchases Max Kline Stock

Jack Gramer, local clothing and dry goods merchant, today told a reporter that he is not connected with the concern conducting the sale at the former Rose & Gorman store.

"I sold my interest to Edward Jacobs and associates of New York," said Mr. Gramer. "I would like this known generally because people call me asking for jobs as clerks for the sale, thinking I am still interested."

Mr. Gramer was one of the first to negotiate with the Gorman interests for the purchase of the stock.

Asked whether he had purchased the stock of the Max Kline store at 20 Broadway, Mr. Gramer said yes, but had no further announcement to make for the present.

The Kline store is well known as a downtown establishment, having been conducted on lower Broadway for about a quarter of a century. It was started by the late Max Kline, whose widow and son, Louis, continued it after his death, several years ago.

many permits have been issued to connect with the sewers. At least 50 per cent of cesspools have been abandoned in the newly sewered sections.

"In closing, I wish to thank the mayor for his interest and cooperation in the work of the department, the members of the Board of Health and my associates for their part in keeping up the record which Kingston enjoys as being a clean and healthy as well as attractive city in which to live."

FAREWELL DINNER HELD FOR NELAND H. FULLER

Wednesday evening the Alpha Chapter of the Hi-Y gave a farewell dinner at Judie's for Neland H. Fuller, who has recently resigned his position of boys' secretary of the local "Y" in order to accept the general secretaryship of the New Rochelle Y. M. C. A. In addition to the members of the club, Robert Sisson and Chester Baltz, Jr., were also present. After an excellent meal, Gilbert Richter, in behalf of the Hi-Y Club, presented Mr. Fuller with a handsome Gladstone bag. In a short speech the former boys' secretary expressed his appreciation of the dinner and the gift and stated that he hoped that the members of the club would remember the training they had received in Hi-Y and carry it with them through life.

Mr. Fuller has been connected with the local Y. M. C. A. for the past eight years and under his direction the boys' division with all its young people's clubs has flourished. The Hi-Y will greatly miss the guidance it has had under Mr. Fuller's able hand.

Every member of the club, in spite of the fact that he is leaving Kingston, is glad that the former advisor has received a promotion and sincerely wishes that he will be as successful in New Rochelle as he has been in Kingston.

Britain, France Strive to Localize Spain's Civil War

(By The Associated Press.)

Spurred more than ever by authoritative reports of a German Moroccan incursion threatening both the future of British Gibraltar and a French colonial border, Great Britain and France drove ahead today toward localizing Spain's war.

They wanted direct action, a quick practical plan to keep foreign arms and men from making the civil conflict into even more of a "little world war."

French officials announced emphatically they could never permit Germany to gain a foothold in Spanish Morocco, where thousands of Germans were reported to have conducted a virtual military and commercial invasion.

France and Britain, in earnest consultation, have heard that German-supervised fortifications are going up at Ceuta to rival those of Gibraltar, 14 miles across the straits; that Germans have obtained from Spanish insurgent rulers of the Moroccan zone numerous concessions which will give the land-poor third reich a colonial wedge.

F. D. Roosevelt Jr. Quits Hospital

Boston, Jan. 8 (AP).—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., left the Massachusetts General Hospital today, reported cured of a sinus infection and a streptococcal throat. He had been under treatment since the day before Thanksgiving.

Young Roosevelt left immediately for Washington by train there to spend a few days at the White House before departing for Florida.

He said he hoped his fiancée, Miss Ethel du Pont, would join him at Wilmington, Del. He expressed the hope that he would be able to graduate from Harvard College in June, the month also set for his wedding.

Young Roosevelt walked erect and unaided. Aside from a slight natural paleness, he appeared well. His manner was animated. He was smiling as he left and appeared in very good spirits.

NARCOTIC PEDDLER, 32, EXECUTED AT PEIPING

Peiping, Jan. 8 (AP).—Lu Ju-Hain, 32, Chinese narcotic peddler, was shot today in public ceremonies as the first victim of North China's campaign against habit-forming drugs.

Lu was arrested last night as he rode his bicycle through the north gate of the city and was found to be carrying 60 ounces of narcotics. His death was ordered by Gen. Sung Chen-Yuan, chairman of the Hoehai-Chahar political council and leader of the campaign.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. met at the home of Mrs. Robert Sisson, 108 Emerson street, Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The president, Mrs. George A. DuBois, presided, and the devotional service was led by Mrs. William A. Longyear. A brief business meeting was held at which reports were given and routine business transacted.

Announcement was made that on the evening of January 23 a party for cards and other games will be held at the "Y" under the leadership of Mrs. Sisson, Mrs. Flicker and Mrs. DeWitt. It is hoped that the members of the Auxiliary will keep this date free and all their friends are invited to participate in this event. At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Secor led those present in some games which were much enjoyed. The hostess then served delicious refreshments. Mrs. DuBois presiding at the tea table.

Epworth League Organizes Union

The Epworth Leagues of the Methodist Churches in this vicinity met on Wednesday night at the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church with Rev. Howard Dixon McGrath, pastor of the church, presiding, and organized a "local union" of Epworth Leagues of this section. The name of the union was deferred until next meeting which will be held on the second Friday in March in Malton. Seven churches were represented and seven officers were elected. After spirited balloting the following officers were elected: President, Forrest Dederick, Quarryville; first vice president, Ada Piero, Malden; second vice president, Lola Stall, Clinton Avenue Church, Kingston; third vice president, Audrey Krom, Saugerties; fourth vice president, Wilson Tinney, Port Ewen; secretary, Maude Bunting, St. James Church, Kingston; treasurer, Joseph St. Paul, Tully Church, Kingston. Eighty young people with their pastors attended the meeting. It was decided to hold a mid-winter Epworth League Institute for six successive Fridays beginning January 23 in Clinton Avenue Church. Arrangements for the institute were left in the hands of the cabinet of pastors. After the business meeting games were played in Epworth Hall, and refreshments were served.

Lackawack Owners Seek 1930 Prices

The trial of the first claim filed against the City of New York for the taking of lands for the Lackawack Reservoir was taken up before Commissioners Graham, Aronowitz and Flanagan at the hearing room in the Burgevine Building on Wednesday and continued all day yesterday. The claim was that of Mrs. Ella V. Gosselin for the taking of her residence property in the Village of Lackawack. Thomas J. Plunkett, represented Mrs. Gosselin, and Assistant Corporation Counsel Bright and Egan appeared for the City of New York.

The first witness for the claimant was George S. Robinson, a Civil Engineer, who testified to the boundaries and dimensions of the property and to the making of a map of it. He was followed by Mrs. Gosselin who described in detail the property and its buildings and improvements. Chauncey Lane, of the W. E. Joyce Construction Company of the city, was then qualified as a building expert and testified to the structural value of the buildings upon the Gosselin property at the time it was condemned.

Supervisor Tutbill McDowell of the town of Wawarsing was next called by the claimant as an expert upon realty values in that locality. During the examination of Mr. McDowell a claim was made by counsel for the claimant and sustained by the commission, which, if approved by the appellate courts, will doubtless result in largely increased awards for the property owners in the Lackawack section. Mr. McDowell upon his examination described the conditions which existed in the town of Wawarsing before and after 1929 stock market crash and then testified that because of the depression prices of real property in that section had been enormously decreased, and that in his opinion a fair market for the sale of real estate did not exist in the town of Wawarsing on November 16, 1936, when the Gosselin property was taken by the city of New York. He said that during the boom of 1929 there had been much dealing in equities, with numerous mortgages involved, and that he considered the prices paid at that time abnormal. But that after the 1929 crash there was a period in the latter part of 1930 and the early part of 1931 when the market was more normal and fair, which was followed by a period from 1932 to 1937 when nothing like actual value could be obtained for real estate in the locality.

Mr. McDowell was then asked by counsel for the claimant to state the fair market value of the property during the 1930-31 period. The giving of this evidence was strenuously opposed by Assistant Corporation Counsel Bright, who stated that for many years the measure of compensation paid to owners whose lands were taken in condemnation proceedings was fair market value at the time of the condemnation and that there was no justification for a change of the rule in this proceeding.

In answer to Mr. Bright's argument Judge Kaufman said that he fully realized that the claim which he was making to have the compensation to be paid to the Lackawack owners measured by 1930 instead of 1936 prices was a departure from the old rule, but that he was fully convinced that the courts would under present economic conditions sustain his contention. He said that under both the state and federal constitutions the property owners were guaranteed "just compensation" for the taking of their properties, and that the statute under which the city of New York took the property required that the owners must be paid "just and equitable" compensation. He said that the Lackawack property owners were being deprived of their properties against their will by the city of New York while the real property market was scraping bottom; that, except for the taking by the city, the property owners would have retained their properties until the return of normal conditions, when, if they wished to dispose of them, they would have brought much higher prices. He said that it would be a travesty of justice to make awards to the owners upon the basis of present prices and to call it "just compensation." He said that, while the Appellate Courts had not ruled upon the question in a condemnation case, the Court of Appeals had in a very recent decision in a mortgage difficulty case upheld a similar contention, and that he was fully persuaded that it would uphold the rule he contended for in this case.

After a conference with the other commissioners, Chairman Graham stated that the commission appreciated the gravity of the situation in that its decision, if upheld by the appellate courts, might change the long established rule in condemnation cases in the state of New York, but that the Court of Appeals had in the opinion of the commission clearly indicated that it would approve such a change and that the commission therefore ruled in favor of the property owner and permitted the question. Exception to the ruling was noted by counsel for the city. At the conclusion of Mr. McDowell's examination the trial of the Gosselin case was adjourned until January 14.

Rev. A. J. Dooley Goes to Montrose

After nearly eight years in the parish of St. Ann's, Sawkill, and the Church of St. Wendellus, Ruby, the Rev. Andrew J. Dooley has been promoted to the pastorate of St. Christopher's Church, Montrose.

The Rev. J. Warren Hughes of Poughkeepsie will succeed Father Dooley.

The parishioners of Father Dooley, although they regret losing him, feel that the meritorious work he did while in Ulster county won for him the promotion given him by His Eminence Patrick Cardinal Hayes, archbishop of New York.

The Rev. William P. F. Dooley, pastor of Holy Name Church, Wilbur, is a brother of Father Andrew J. Dooley.

Father Hughes, who will assume his duties at Sawkill on Saturday, January 16, at present is senior assistant pastor of St. Peter's Church, Poughkeepsie. He began his duties at St. Peter's Church five years ago after finishing at St. Joseph's Normal College, Barrytown. He was graduated from Cathedral College and ordained in 1920 at a private ceremony in the seminary chapel at Dunwoodie a year before his time for reorganization and organization work.

He has been moderator of the Rosary Society, the Fishers' Society, St. Peter's A. A., St. Peter's former Scout Social group; St. Peter's Boy Scouts; St. Peter's Girl Scouts; the Scout Auxiliary, a member of the advisory board of the Dutchess County Boy Scout Council; an adviser of the Dutchess county branch of the National Youth Organization.

Moderator of St. Peter's 100 Dinner Club, moderator of the Society for the Propagation of the Saints, a national organization; moderator of the Senior and Junior Holy Name Societies and St. Peter's altar boys.

In New Zealand, extension teaching, started three years ago, is still new, but is well received. Money for its maintenance comes from an endowment, and rural women are charged a minimum fee which does not cover the teaching expenses. New Zealand has no farm bureaus and the organization of the extension groups for women is similar to that of the Women's Institutes of Canada.

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—A late rally in steel, backward during the forenoon, brought buying vigor in today's stock market.

Gains of fractions to 2 or more points were well distributed near the final hour. Activity was most pronounced in the first period, when there was a turnover of 800,000 shares.

General Motors was an exception to the advancing trend as strikes spread in this company's plants. It lost about a point. Chrysler, down at one time, cancelled its decline. General Motors, at the same time, announced world sales in December were the largest for any month on record.

U. S. Steel on its recovery touched a new 1936-37 top. Bethlehem wiped out an early recession.

Transfers were around 3,500,000 shares.

Wright Aeronautical was up about 7 points at the close. Lesser gainers included Douglas, Sperry, United, Boeing and Curtiss-Wright.

Among others pointing higher were Anaconda, Kennecott, Inspiration, Miami Calumet & Hecla, Spiegel, Inc., (formerly Spiegel-May-Stern), Montgomery Ward, U. S. Pipe & Foundry, Vanadium, Western Union, Standard Gas, Stone & Webster, International Paper & Power, du Pont, Procter & Gamble, Celanese, Barnsdall, Texas Corp., Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Great Northern, Budd Mfg., Barbor Co., Newport Industries, Allis-Chalmers, Johns-Manville, J. Increased Trading And Higher Prices

Sharply increased securities trading accompanied by higher prices, with utilities a feature, developed yesterday. A total of 3,060,000 shares were dealt in on the Stock Exchange, the highest since November 17, 1926. Commodities were generally higher. From rail circles came reports of improved earnings and a warning of probable need for a further expansion of equipment buying. Rayon producers are starting 1937 with best prospects in some years. Prices are up and production volume is expected to increase.

Reserve of rail rolling stock is down to a point where additional equipment must be employed to meet traffic needs. I. C. C. was informed by Vice President Symes. A new 15 per cent jump in freight traffic this year would necessitate purchase of 180,000 freight cars, 2,400 locomotives, he stated.

Other railroad comment yesterday: Statement of President Scandrett of St. Paul that road's net operating income increased from November to December; estimate of President Clement that Pennsylvania's 1936 gross was $440,000,000; statement of President Denney that Erie's 1936 net was $2,000,000; forecast of a ten per cent rise in gross this year over last by President Hill of L. & N.; estimate by President Baldwin that M. O. P. December gross was up 18.5 per cent over December, 1935.

Lima Locomotive received order for two engines from Chicago & Illinois Midland.

American Can will build $1,500,000 plant, first new construction in several years.

Plant expenditures by American

Telephone this year will top $300,000,000, highest since 1931, vs. $243,247,000 in 1935.

Effective today, Standard Oil of New Jersey is raising price of standard diesel fuel oil 20 cents a barrel at major east coast cities, 15 cents at New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

Other companies probably will follow.

Montgomery Ward December sales set a record for any month at $51,789,337, up 31.2 per cent over year ago. November total was 19.6 per cent over November, 1935. Walgreen December sales were $7,218,590, up 16.3 per cent.

December sales of S. H. Kress were $14,748,266, up 6.9 per cent; of J. J. Newberry, $8,264,824, up 14.8 per cent.

Corn products 1936 net is estimated at $3.75 to $4 a common share.

International Nickel's 1936 net is estimated at record high of $2.40 a common share, vs. $1.65 in 1935.

Balmy Breezes Bathe New York

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—For coats went back to the mothballs today as New Yorkers "basked" more or less in a semi-tropical wave of warmth. At high noon, the mercury reached 46 degrees—not a record January 8 temperature, for two years ago today it was 54 degrees, nor was it the warmest day of the new year. On January 1, the temperature was 51.

It was balmy enough, however, for shopgirls to saunter forth in short sleeves at the lunch hour. And the weather bureau announced: "Still no sign of snow."

Parent-Teacher Associations

Lake Katrine, Jan. 8.—The next regular meeting of the P. T. A. will be held at the schoolhouse on Wednesday evening, January 13, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. R. Everett and Mrs. L. Whitcomb have charge of the program and have invited Mrs. Charles Tubbs and Miss Blakesley. Mrs. Tubbs will give a talk on her travels and Miss Blakesley, the new district nurse, will talk on her work.

Mrs. H. Furuseth, Mrs. C. Gates, Mrs. A. Stanley and Miss Fibreux DuMont will serve.

Put just as much space as possible between plantings of the new Solus purple raspberries, recently introduced by the State Experiment Station at Geneva, and plantings of Columbian by made carried in all Columbian plants, advises Prof. L. M. Conner, an authority on raspberry diseases, in an article in the current issue of "Berry Research", the station's quarterly magazine.

Artist Believes In Kids' Talent—They Get To 'Improve' His Work

FAVORITE LOCALE
Waldo Peirce frequents low dives on the waterfront because he likes to paint scenes full of color and gusto like this one, which he calls "Sloppy Joe's, Key West."

By CHARLES NORMAN
Feature Service Writer

New York (AP)—Most artists are temperamental, but Waldo Peirce doesn't flutter a pulse when his children tiptoe into the studio with brushes in their hands and start to "improve" his paintings.

"They like to paint, too," he says. And he lets them, even at the expense of his work. He thinks most children can paint rings around their elders anyway, "if you let them alone."

A big, baggy and bearded Down Easter—he is from Maine—Peirce came to New York for the openings of his latest one-man show, then left in a battered car for Arizona with his wife and three children, easel and baggage.

Paints "By Perversity"

Staying in one place for long, settling down to painting, doesn't agree with him.

"The more you paint," he explains, "the less history you have." He likes to make history—that is, to live—as much as he likes to paint. Once he started for Europe on a cattle boat, leaving Boston harbor he changed his mind, jumped overboard and swam to shore.

As for me, I paint by perversity.

Wherever he finds himself, he makes notes—quick sketches in pencil. He likes low dives where he can come into contact with rollicking, battling types of waterfront humanity. His pictures, full of color and gusto, reflect this interest.

"Circus at Night," Sloppy Joe's, Key West, and "Sloppy Joe's Bar" are some of his titles. But he can also paint a "Mother and Child" (his wife and daughter) with lyrical tenderness.

He saves his sketches for months, sometimes longer. Then, when he is in the mood, he starts transferring them to canvas.

"Sometimes," he says, "when I get ready to paint a tropical scene, it's winter."

Discredits Cold Countries

Speaking of winter, he says with emphasis: "The cold countries don't have painters worth a damn. To paint, you need to live in a country of temperate climate and wine."

He cites the contrast between the Scandinavian countries and Italy or France.

He speaks quickly, and his voice sometimes escapes from the depths of his throat and beard too fast to follow, or is made unclear by the ever-constant pipe stuck in his mouth. He is something of a phrasemaker in his conversation. Asked about his schooling, he said:

"I neglected my education at Harvard for four or five years."

3 Cars With G-Men Rush from Tacoma, "Break" Is Rumored

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 8 (AP)—Three automobiles filled with men believed to be Federal Bureau of Investigation agents raced through Olympia, Wash., at 6:30 a. m. today and took the road to Aberdeen, 84 miles southwest of Tacoma.

This sudden action stirred rumors a "break" had come in the kidnaping of 10-year-old Charles Mattson.

The three machines traveling rapidly, careened onto the branch of the highway leading directly toward Aberdeen and other harbor cities.

At the same hour, two other automobiles, also traveling at high speed, were reported leaving Tacoma on the mountain highway leading to the southeast toward Mount Rainier where the drivers hurriedly conferred before the machines separated and sped on their way.

Observers interpreted their activity as meaning the kidnaped boy had been released. All law enforcement agencies had completely withdrawn from activity earlier in the week at the request of the boy's father. The general understanding was that they would make no moves until Charles was released.

The latest communication from the Mattson family to the kidnapers, published in the Seattle Times yesterday, indicated that important developments could be expected shortly.

No Statement
Neither Harold Nathan, in charge of the government operatives in Tacoma, and Inspector Earl J. Connelly could be reached in their hotel rooms after the federal machines left the garage.

Nathan reached his office at 9 a. m.

Must Apply For Separate Report

New York, Jan. 8 (AP)—Glenn A. Bowers, executive director of the State Department's division of placement and unemployment insurance, announced today that all employers wishing to use the separation report method under the State Unemployment Insurance Law must make application by January 11.

Those unable to supply full data will be given until January 31 to comply, if their application is in the mail before January 11, he said.

Bowers said employers who fail to make 1936 payments by January 31 will automatically be doubling their taxes, as they will have to pay state contributions in full and the federal tax, under the Social Security Law, without credit for state contributions.

Union Service at First Reformed Was Largely Attended

Although the weather was far from conducive to a large attendance several hundred people gathered in the First Reformed Church Thursday evening at the union service of churches of the city and surrounding communities, which marked the inauguration of the preaching mission which is to be held in the churches represented during the week beginning Sunday.

The Rev. Arthur G. Cole, pastor of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church, as chairman of the local committee representing the National Preaching Mission, presided. He told of the aims of the preaching mission in which some 14 or more churches in this locality would participate and earnestly requested the interested cooperation of every member of the churches concerned, with their pastors and church officials, in this united effort to revivify and extend religious life in the community.

The Rev. Arthur E. Oudenool, pastor of the church, opened the service of the evening. The scripture reading by the Rev. J. N. Armstrong, Jr., pastor of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Arthur G. Carroll of St. James M. E. Church offered prayer. In addition to the congregational singing there was a very pleasing anthem, with solo numbers, by the choir, W. Whiting Fredenburgh presiding at the organ.

The preacher of the evening was the Rev. Dr. George Irving of New York city, actively connected with the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. and the National Preaching Mission, the latter work being sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches, with many noted preachers participating.

There was nothing sensational about Dr. Irving's sermon, which was a restatement of some of the more vital truths of the Christian religion, with emphasis on the personal appeal, the necessity of actually living up to the light one has and the necessity of a faith in a God Who is "inexhaustible," "in our side" and is "available."

The speaker noted that St. Paul spoke of "my" gospel and contrasted the expression with that of "the" gospel as generally used by most people. The thought was that there was need for making the gospel a personal thing. "There is too much talk today about having an open mind, continued Dr. Irving, adding that 'the mind was made for something besides simply being 'open'. Do something besides 'examine' the truth, as if it were 'a bug under a rug', he said, quoting Christ's words that 'He that is willing to do shall know', and holding that 'You must live up to the light you have if you would not get more.'

"Affirmations are needed today," said the speaker. He noted that there were many sides to the nature of God and that each generation emphasized the side that appealed to it. Thus Jonathan Edwards and his generation emphasized "The Majesty of God"; Dwight L. Moody, the great evangelist, laid emphasis on "The Love of God".

In closing Dr. Irving elaborated on the three important aspects of God—that He is inexhaustible and all powerful; that He is for all, regardless of race, color or condition; that He is available to every person and understandable through Jesus Christ.

The services of the preaching mission, which will open in the various churches on Sunday, will continue on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of the coming week.

Hebrew School Services Tonight

Special services for young people will be held at the Congregation Agudas Achim of West Union street this evening (Friday) at 7:30 o'clock.

Rabbi Teicher will conduct the services and the Hebrew school choir will lead the congregation all singing. Charles Katz will be the guest speaker.

Services will be held at the Congregation Agudas Achim Saturday morning, January 9, at 9 o'clock. The Rev. Tobias Schulzinger will officiate and Rabbi Teicher will preach on the weekly portion of the Torah.

The regular monthly meeting of the Congregation Agudas Achim will be held Sunday afternoon, January 10, at 3 o'clock.

Trinity Lutheran Ladies' Aid Met

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets, was held Thursday afternoon in the assembly rooms of the church.

A record number of ladies was present in spite of the inclement weather. Everyone was eager to learn who their "Polyanna" had been during the year and after their identities were disclosed there was much merriment and expressions of appreciation.

Mrs. Emma Lindhorst resigned as financial secretary because of ill health. A rising vote of thanks was accorded Mrs. Lindhorst for her faithful service during the past year. Mrs. Cornelia Henniger was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. Because of the great volume of business transacted at this meeting, the election of officers, ordinarily held at this meeting, was postponed until the next regular meeting, Thursday, February 4.

It was decided to hold the fourth annual German dinner on Shrove Tuesday, February 9. Mrs. Edward Snyder, 2 Snyder Place, was appointed chairman. The menu decided upon includes Roast pork, apple sauce, sauerkraut, frankfurters, mashed potatoes, sauerbraten with Kartoffel-kloese, rolls, lastnacht kuchen, coffee, tea, postum. In conjunction with the dinner, a spider-web social will be held. This has always been an enjoyable and interesting feature of these German dinners.

The uptown Circle will be entertained by Mrs. Harry P. Dodge at her home, 63 Green street, on Thursday, January 11, 2:30 p. m. The downtown Circle will be entertained by Mrs. Carrie Bittner and Mrs. Catherine Stork in the assembly rooms of the church on Wednesday evening, January 13, at 7:30 o'clock. Election of officers will take place at both meetings and a report of the activities of both circles for the entire year will be read.

Epicenter of Quake
Honolulu, Jan. 8 (AP)—Scientists declared today earthquake readings recorded here yesterday were as severe as those at the time of the disastrous Japanese shock in 1923. It was estimated the epicenter of the disturbance was in northern Tibet, about 1,200 miles from here, or in Kansu Province, in the interior of China.

Twenty-five railroads have repaid, in full, loans made to them by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Kingston at Newburgh Tonight Other DUSO League Contests

After a two-week rest due to the Christmas recess, the DUSO court campaigners swing back into action on three fronts tonight. Kingston engages in the major battle of the four-county loop at Newburgh while other league cage entanglements find Monticello and Middletown battling it out on the mid-city boards and Liberty invading Port Jervis in a contest that will result in eliminating one quintet from the undefeated class. Ellenville, which suffered a 25-20 defeat at the hands of Port in the opener, draws a bye in tomorrow night's schedule.

Although the clash between N. Y. A. and K. H. S. holds the center of the stage in the DUSO hoop drama, the Liberty-Port Jervis affair at the coal city looms up as a hectic struggle. Port trimmed Ellenville on the southern Ulster village's new court by a five-point margin, while Liberty nipped Middletown in a last second comeback after trailing all the way to emerge a shaky 26-24 conqueror of the Middles. Both Port and Liberty abound in tall-timbered hoopers and are sharing first place with a flashy Newburgh quintet in a three-way leadership. Liberty has uncovered a phenomenal pivot-man in the person of the gigantic Fred Hashbrock, who towers to the height of six feet, three inches. Hashbrock outplayed the talented Bob Duffus of Middletown in the seasonal opener, meshing four sensational fields and throttling Duffus to a lone dance. Orlando and Captain Whitey of the red and black have provided the scoring punch for the Hoosier crew and collected 21 out of the total 25 points between them to turn back Ellenville.

Middletown's scrappy pack of so-called midgels will tangle with Monticello in another closely-contested court duel at the mid-city arena. Newburgh trimmed the Monties by a 22-13 count although the mountaineers opened fast to take a 10-7 edge at halftime. The hill-billies attack bogged down in the last half and Newburgh won by a handsome margin. The loss of Captain Abe Wolff due to an operation has hit the Monties hard as only two experienced veterans are on hand to carry the burden. Middletown using a helter-skelter offense with constant shooting looked promising in their inaugural and with Wagner and Paduch teaming up nicely in the front court almost took Liberty over. The Middles have the more balanced unit and are favored to notch their first league victory.

The probable starting lineups for the resumption of the DUSO cage wars are:

Port Jervis	Liberty
RF—Heston	Kilgoff
LF—Orlando	Loeffel (Capt)
C—Jack Quinn	Hashbrock
RG—Pellito	Benton
LG—Whitney (Capt)	Yeager

Middletown	Monticello
RF—Wagner	Prince
LF—Paduch	Davidoff
C—Duffus	W. Stanton
RG—Harrison	Yankelovitz
LG—Ellerlin	Lipshitz

Grant-Hendrix On Court Today

Coral Gables, Fla., Jan. 8 (UP)—The south's rival slayers of net giants renewed their personal feud today in the Biltmore tennis tournament. A year ago, unassuming Arthur Hendrix pounded Bryan M. (Bilby) Grant out of the Biltmore semi-finals, thereby gaining much of the confidence that carried him to tenth place in the national rankings.

They faced each other across a net at New Orleans last week, with Grant getting revenge in straight sets. Today, again in the Biltmore semi-finals, Hendrix hoped to turn the tables. He disposed of No. 2 ranked Frankie Parker, counted among the outstanding contenders for the 1936 Davis Cup squad, in yesterday's quarter-finals 6-6, 1-6, 6-2. Grant was pressed to win from Gardner Mulloy of Miami, eastern clay singles champion, 2-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Don Budge of Oakland, Calif., had last year's winner, cutley-haired Charles Harris of Palm Beach, for opposition on the other side of the semi-final bracket. Budge disposed of Wayne Sabia, Los Angeles, 7-5, 7-5, yesterday, while Harris trimmed Ricardo Morales, Cuban ace, 6-2, 6-4.

Tops In Tennis —By Pap

There can be little reason to quarrel with the tennis fathers over their ranking of Don Budge at No. 1 on the men's list for 1936. The California red-head is entitled to the top spot. But it does seem that the powers-that-be did not do right by Helen Hull when Jacobs dropped her into second position behind Alice Marble, her sister Californian who defeated Miss Jacobs in the final of the women's national singles tournament.

Unless the national singles championship automatically carried No. 1 ranking with it, Miss Jacobs' supporters will have reason to squawk. Miss Marble's victory over Miss Jacobs was one of the outstanding upsets of the tennis season. Miss Jacobs had returned a few weeks previous from her triumph at Wimbledon, where she had won what is generally considered the world's title. She boasted a victory over Miss Marble in three sets in the finals of the Essex Club singles at Manchester-by-the-Sea.

Our Chance for Davis Cup

Now that Fred Perry has deserted amateur ranks, the U. S. tennis fathers look forward to Davis Cup competition with considerable optimism. Most of their optimism is based on the fact that 22-year-old Don Budge is on our side. They figure that Don is destined to replace Perry as the outstanding amateur netman in the world. Certainly he gave promise of great things last year and against any one but Perry might have triumphed in the big tests.

Naturally, Budge is destined to be the American mainstay in the international matches. It is very likely that he will be pointed for the doubles, with Gene Mako as his partner, as well as for the singles. Budge and Mako routed the old champions, Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, in taking the national doubles crown. There is little possibility that Allison and Van Ryn will even rate serious consideration as candidates for places on the 1937 Davis Cup team. Youth will most likely take all the available posts.

Grant to Return?

Bitsy Grant hasn't completely given up hope of playing an active part in the Davis Cup matches and may yet succeed. Another veteran who has shown great progress in staging a comeback on the coast is Sidney Wood. The tall blond, who once held the Wimbledon title, is playing serious tennis, and when Wood plays the game the way he is capable of playing it, he must be considered a possibility for the squad.

Frankie Parker, ranked No. 2 for 1936, has definitely decided to further his tennis education and has dropped out of school to compete in the big winter and spring tournaments.

Frankie has been concentrating on trying to perfect his forehand drive, the one great weakness in his tennis armor. Mercer Beasley's pupil is determined to make a spirited bid for the other singles berth on the Davis Cup squad.

There are several other youngsters who may come along fast and prove of some help to Budge in the international tests. Fellows like Bobby Riggs, Joe Hunt and Arthur Hendrix have no experience in international competition but they have shown flashes of form that indicate they are real prospects and, since the Davis Cup committee seems determined to build for future triumphs, they are likely to get every possible chance to further their development.

Ambers Rules 6-5 Over Venturi

New York, Jan. 8 (UP)—The lightweight take over the fltic spotlight tonight with Champion Lou Ambers and potential challenger Enrico Venturi tangle in a non-title ten-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Strictly on their recent showings, the betting has been near even money. A week ago, Venturi, flashy Italian fist-thrower, was 7 to 5. The odds went down until Ambers, billed as the Herkimer Hurricane from upstate, ruled at 6-5.

The supporting card for the Venturi-Ambers clash features several other lightweight hopefuls, Bobby Pacheco, Mexican better from California, takes on Frankie Blair of Camden, N. J., in one eight-rounder; Carl (Red) Guzzino, Hartford, Conn., stablemate of Ambers, meets Billy Beaulieu of Jersey City in another, and the veteran Lew Feldman trades punches with Joey Ferrando of Jersey City in a third.

AMBERS VENTURI BOUT WILL BE BROADCAST OVER WHN

The boxing match between Lou Ambers, lightweight champion of the world, and Enrico Venturi, Italian star, at Madison Square Garden tonight, will be broadcast at 9:45 o'clock over radio station WHN.

Billiard Star at Kaslich's Tonight

"Patsy" Natalie, outstanding pocket billiard star for 15 years, appears at Nick Kaslich's parlor on Wall street tonight, playing an exhibition against Freddie Planthaber, local luminary. Starting time of the match is 9:30, and a crowd is expected to witness it.

Natalie is a colorful player as well as an expert. He repeatedly won eliminations and qualifying tournaments to gain the right to play in title tournaments. In 1928 he finished third to Frank Taborski and Ralph Greenleaf for world's honors. As an added attraction, little Wanda Natalie, 13-year-old daughter of the billiardist, will play a suitable opponent tonight. Her father boasts that she is the youngest pocket billiard star of either sex.

Freddie Planthaber won the right to meet Natalie in the main attraction by defeating Clifton Quick in a 250 point match.

$8,000 Purse Is Lure For Golfers

Los Angeles, Jan. 8 (UP)—The biggest purse in California's winter golf program—$8,000—lured a host of the nation's leading golfers to the firing line today for the first 18 holes of the twelfth annual Los Angeles Open.

There were 128 shotmakers qualified for the four-day meet with its final 18-hole round scheduled for Monday.

Winner-pickers shied away after glancing over the field. One threesome comprised MacDonald Smith, young Horton Smith and Ralph Guidahl.

Another threesome, Harry Cooper of Chicago, Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., and Harry Westbrook, Pasadena amateur, drew interest.

With exception of Bobby Cruickshank, 1927 winner, every champion was entered in this year's event—Denny Shute, Craig Wood, Ed Dudley of Los Angeles and Jimmy Hines from Long Island being the others.

Newburgh Skate Schedule Changed

Newburgh, N. Y., Jan. 8 (UP)—Unseasonably warm weather caused postponement of one important winter sports event and cancellation of another today.

Lack of ice brought a postponement of the Middle Atlantic skating championships, scheduled here Sunday, until January 21. It was the second postponement of the races, originally slated for New Year's Day. At Saratoga Springs, meanwhile, Skidmore College officials cancelled plans for a three-day winter sports carnival this week-end in which representatives from the women's and men's colleges from New York and New England were to have competed. An exhibition and inter-club skating contest Saturday night, followed by a sports dance, will be substituted.

Wiltwyck Chapter January Meeting

The January meeting of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R., was held on Tuesday afternoon at the chapter house, Mrs. William R. Anderson, president, presiding.

Following the routine business of the meeting, the registrar, Mrs. Harris C. Inglis, reported the admission into full membership in Wiltwyck Chapter of seven new members: Miss Katherine D. Millard, Mrs. Frank Eastman, Mrs. James Eastman (nee Miss Phyllis Eastman), Mrs. Leonard Beers, Mrs. John E. Seidler, Mrs. Samuel D. Scudder, Mrs. Clarence Wolfersleit.

Mrs. Prescott Clancy, chapter historian, reported on the sale of the chapter bread sent to the chapter for the benefit of Kenmore Home in Washington.

Mrs. Frederick R. Chidsey, chairman of the junior group told of the Christmas tree party of that group held at the chapter house, with the tree decorated Christmas tree and gifts in full splendor. The gifts were for Ellis Island, the chapter making many contributions for which the junior group having this year in charge, heartily thanked them. The packed gifts sent to the island were valued at $50 and there was $4.60 in money given.

A photograph of the group together with the tree and packages was taken, also one of the group and the beautiful D. A. R. silk flag. The pictures will be sent to Mrs. William Pouch, organizing secretary general of junior D. A. R. work for the A. R. magazine. On Monday, January 11, the junior group will be guests at a gathering of young women and yet members but eligible for membership and to the officers, board and committee chairman of the mother organization, the party to be held at the chapter house.

Mrs. Chidsey announced that on Monday evening, February 1, a card party would be held at the chapter house in place of the regular meeting, the proceeds from the same to be toward the junior group's $20 quota for approved schools.

On Thursday evening, February 4, the regular monthly meeting of the chapter will be held in place of the afternoon as usual. It is hoped that many of the teachers of the city are members of the chapter will be able to be present and the junior group will meet with the regular A. R. members.

Mrs. Ellis read a letter from the national chairman of occupational work at Ellis Island thanking the chapter for its gifts.

This was followed by a reading of the "National Defense" given by Mrs. Commons. Mrs. C. N. Wood read a message to the chapter from the president general, Mrs. Becker, extending the New Year's greeting from the national and state officers. There was also a "thank you" letter from Kenmore.

The program for the afternoon given by children of members of Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R. Before entering the program, Mrs. Clarence Dumm suggested that there should be kept a permanent record of the children and grand children of the chapter. The suggestion was accepted and Mrs. Dumm was put in charge of this recording.

Announcement was made that the annual meeting for the purpose of electing three trustees would be held Tuesday afternoon, February 9, 2:30 o'clock at the chapter house. An invitation was received and read from Mrs. Fred P. Luther, moderator of the Kingston Better Motion Picture Appreciation Classes, to attend the open meeting of the classes to be held on the evening of January 22 at the Y. W. C. A. Also was contributed to the Kingston Better Motion Picture Council for carrying on of that work.

The election of delegates and alternates to the April continental convention at Washington was next in order and resulted as follows: Alternate to the regent, Mrs. W. Dean; delegate, Mrs. Lester Moehring; alternate, Mrs. Adam Porter. Mrs. Ernestine, so far elected, Miss O'Sullivan. Mrs. Hiram Whitney, Mrs. Anne Witter, Mrs. Frederick Chidsey, the next D. A. R. meeting the other four delegates will be elected. The program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Harold Keator and was admirably presented by the children of the chapter members, as follows:

Piano duet "Evening" by Low, played by Janet and Ruth Boerker. Violin and piano selection, "Allegro in G major" movement from Sonata in minor by Spross, played by Oscar and Robert Hawksley. Intermeso "Cavaleria Rusticana", by Mascagni, played by Masters Oscar and Robert Hawksley.

Mrs. Keator then gave a brief but very interesting history of the Colonial Bruyn Society—a former children's group in the chapter—formed in 1902 by Mrs. William Fessenden through whose efforts the youthful organization was very active. Miss Patricia Forsyth was also much interested in this group which helped the children to secure the chapter house of which they all were so proud.

Mrs. Fessenden also spoke of the five or six years of the Colonial Bruyn Society and how it finally merged into the chapter and expressed the thought that the children had sent out into the world young women prepared to be citizens because of their membership in the chapter.

A social hour followed with Mrs. Keator, Mrs. LeFevre and Miss Idella Hyde as chaperones.

Group 1 was elected king of the chapter in 1937, after declining the honor of Grange in the previous year.

King Cotton May Have To Abdicate As Dixie Discovers Profit In Pine

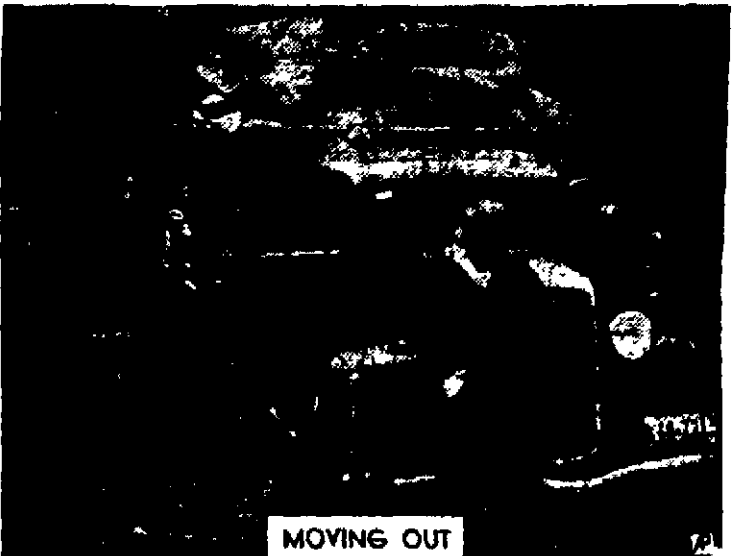

First step in growing pine trees is to gather cones, collect the seed they release upon opening eventually. These southern planters are speeding up the process with a home-made threshing machine.

The seed's first growth is in nursery soil where a box contrivance is used in planting. A pull on the stick releases a row of seed and the width of the box gives right spacing between rows.

Young trees sprung from the seed that artificial rain in their nursery home when mother nature fails to provide the real thing.

After they have grown a little stronger the seedlings are bundled up and trucked from the nursery to their future home.

Next the seedlings are dug from hothouse beds where, on arrival from the nursery, they are kept alive while awaiting planting. In buckets of wet earth they go to their final home.

The seedlings have turned into a young forest which helps prevent soil erosion. And when used industrially the tree yield wood pulp valued at an estimated $15 to $25 an acre.

By WILLIAM BOWING
(AP Feature Service Writer)

Spartanburg, S. C., (AP).—They're turning the "land of cotton" for a crop which agriculturists say may some day displace the staple as "king" in Dixie.

It is pine—loblolly, slash, short-leaf and longleaf. Lands denuded after years of one-crop cultivation today are being planted to millions of sturdy pine trees.

Threefold Use
The Soil Conservation service is principal sponsor of the program for the three-fold purpose of checking erosion, emphasizing the pine's importance in industry and agriculture, and enriching timber sources.

Georgia Forester Elmer E. Dyal believes the versatile pine is destined to be fashioned into the nation's clothesbag.

"Evening dresses, fine underwear, hosiery and men's woolen suits—all these things," he says, "will be made from the pine trees in the near future. Not to mention the transparent paper bags in which the garments are sold and the price tags which are attached to them."

Dyal says pulp from the southern pine makes the same quality of rayon derived from the Canadian spruce.

Proves Usability.
Three years ago Dr. Charles Herty, director of the pulp and paper laboratory at Savannah, Ga., sent a supply of pulp to the Georgia Tech experimental laboratory. There it was converted into fine cloth.

Dr. Herty also disproved the idea that southern pine was useless for sulfate paper making because of high resin content. Herty's research showed that the young pine contains no resin, thus opening the way for the manufacture of paper from southern forests.

Today more than $20,000,000 has been proposed for the erection of additional paper mills that use pine trees as a basic product.

New Profit Seen.
Dr. Herty also discovered a method for the extraction of fat from pines. This opened a new vista of profit for the pine farmer—trees for the finest grades of bond and book paper.

Experiments have shown that an acre of southern land will grow from four to 12 cords of slash pine a year. Slash is the fastest growing variety in the pine family.

Proponents say paper and cloth industries based on southern pine forests would be self-perpetuating since young forests are used and may be replanted to serve in a 10-year cycle.

Farmers Planting Them.
Farmers themselves already have turned to planting pine trees as a crop.

C. M. Jordan, south Georgia planter, says he has planted 175,000 slash pines on 600 acres.

"Added to the agricultural crops," declares Jordan, "I think the growing of pine insures the southern farmer the brightest future ever."

Nurseries operated by states and the federal government are turning out millions of seedlings a year.

Georgia operates two nurseries and, officials say, despite distribution of 5,000,000 seedlings this year, orders of many farmers necessarily had to go unfilled.

Forester Dyal places the income the farmer may expect from a pine tree crop "conservatively at from $15 to $25 an acre for pulp wood alone."

With the soil conservation service, planting crops of pines in the south is big business.

This winter the service, aided by the CCC corps, will plant 50,000,000 trees, the majority pines, throughout the southeast; 175,000,000 over the nation.

Budget Sent to Congress Today

Mr. Roosevelt and his top-flight financial advisers answered reporters' questions about the new budget. It was explained the $200,000,000 PWA revolving fund would be used for loans and grants to municipalities during the remainder of this fiscal year whenever the money was employed to give work to persons on work relief rolls.

Indications were that this fund would be used similarly next year. An agency to administer it was not designated, however.

Public Works Program
For a general public works program next year, including roads, rivers and harbors and such items, the budget provided outlays of $451,108,000—an estimate in line with Mr. Roosevelt's previously announced policy for a "permanent" program costing around $500,000,000 annually.

The budget revised upward earlier estimates of both revenues and expenditures for this fiscal year, with better business bringing higher income expectations and droth relief contributing to the increased costs.

Revenue for the current year was forecast at $5,828,150,000, compared with a September estimate of $5,665,339,000 and actual income of $4,115,956,000 last year.

Predicted expenditure of $8,480,304,000 would show a $717,573,000 increase over the September estimate but a $399,194,000 drop under 1936 outlays.

For 1938, Mr. Roosevelt said the "expected increase in revenue and decrease in expenditures for relief both reflect the general improvement which has taken place in the general economic conditions of the country."

41 Per Cent Gain.
The projected $1,465,456,000 upturn in receipts over the current year to $7,293,607,000 would result largely from an anticipated 41 per cent gain in income tax collections. The President said the 1936 revenue act "gives every indication of satisfactorily accomplishing" its purposes. These aims were listed as replacement of revenue lost through processing tax invalidation, amortization of the bonus and equalization of tax burdens.

On the expenditure side, the budget provided $5,841,965,000 for regular government operations. This would be $740,821,000 higher than the estimate for this year if bonus outlays were accepted.

The boost was attributed to increased social security requirements, additional expenditures for general public works and greater spending for national defense. The national defense item included funds for starting construction of two new battleships.

Work Relief Outlay.
With the $1,537,123,000 work relief outlay, aggregate expenditures for "recovery and relief" next year would total $1,853,154,000, or $963,002,000 under this year's estimate.

If spending were held to the estimates, the administration would borrow no new money in 1937-38. For this year, the public debt will rise $1,248,000,000, only partially reflecting a gross deficit of $2,652,654,000. The difference was accounted for by deduction of debt retirements from the gross deficit and the use of $200,000,000 from the treasury's cash balance for deficit financing.

The debt estimates did not take into account treasury borrowing to carry out its gold "sterilization" program—a policy recently inaugurated to lessen the inflation possibilities in gold imports.

The Fort Lauderdale, Fla., police department reported October was the busiest month in history, with 165 arrests and $1,759 turned in to the fine and bond forfeiture fund.

Student Strike Impends Over Removal of Frank

Madison, Wis., Jan. 8 (AP)—University of Wisconsin students threatened to strike today in protest against the discharge of Dr. Glenn Frank, president of the school for 11 years.

Dr. Frank was dismissed by an 8 to 7 vote of the board of regents last night after a stormy two-day hearing of charges that he was inefficient and did not pay sufficient attention to duties.

Immediately after the vote was announced a group of students staged a demonstration in the small hearing room. They hooted, overturned chairs and tables and broke a window. They subdued upon entrance of a detail of Madison policemen. Throughout the night the students went from fraternity house to dormitories to sororities, urging young men and co-eds to attend a demonstration in front of Bascom Hall before classes today and then refuse to enter their rooms.

Miss Carl Morse, girls' dormitory hostess, at the Frank ouster hearing earlier in the day, had predicted that a strike was "inevitable" if Frank was discharged. She said votes had been taken in dormitories with the result in favor of a strike.

Hitler argument over Frank's qualifications as an administrator failed to shake the determination of Governor La Follette's appointees on the board to seek a new president. The Progressive bloc, headed by Harold M. Wilkie, chairman, voted solidly against the retention of the educator.

The president was relieved of his duties effective today although the dismissal does not become official until the end of the school year. Dr. Frank was given a leave of absence with pay and Dean George C. Sellery of the College of Letters and Science named to act as president.

Governor La Follette earlier in the hearing was accused by two of Frank's supporters of instigating the removal of Dr. Frank. The governor announced he would hold a press conference today to answer the charge.

Frank had a final shot at those who opposed him before the regents voted on a resolution presented by Clough Gates, superior, asking his dismissal.

"The Gates resolution is in perfect keeping with the deception, falsehood, and intrigue which have characterized the moves of the Wilkie forces from the first," he declared, adding that he had been warned before he took the position here not to take it as it was not the La Follette family's wish.
